Me and Martha: Intimate Reflections by Dora DuFran About 'The real life of Calamity Jane' with Mary Jane Bradbury

Monday, June 12th - 6:30pm

Riders Museum - Memorial Hall

Free presentation - Open to Everyone

Who better to give us insights about the real story than madam Dora DuFran, a Black Hills pioneer, entrepreneur and close friend of Calamity's. Ms. DuFran built a successful red light business during the rambunctious early days of the western frontier in Deadwood, South Dakota, and has a unique perspective about how wild it really was. Ms. DuFran knows better than anyone the life of Martha Canary and Calamity Jane, two quite different women, one legendary, one all but forgotten.

Mary Jane Bradbury is a scholar and actress with over 25 years of experience bringing history to life for audiences of all ages in the Rocky Mountain region.

Commerce, Miles Community College Partner to Open New Small Business Development Center

HELENA, Mont. – The Montana Small Business Development Center (SBDC) program at the Montana Department of Commerce is partnering with Miles Community College to host a new SBDC location to grow economic development in Southeastern Montana.

“Together SBDC and Miles Community College will provide access to business development resources, supporting the entire region and strengthening the economy,” said SBDC State Director Chad Moore.

The Regional SBDC center hosted by the college will serve Carter, Custer, Dawson, Fallon, Powder River, Prairie, Rosebud, Treasure, and Wibaux counties from its centralized location in Miles City.

Entrepreneurs in southeastern Montana will have new resources available to them thanks to Miles Community College, including the school’s educational opportunities and strategic plan to develop the region’s workforce.

“Benefits of our partnership include having a valuable small business developer in Miles City, expertise on our campus, new and revitalized small business training, a strong connection with Miles City Area Economic Development Council and Southeastern Montana Development Corporation, and more visibility of the college’s offerings,” Miles Community College President Stacy Klippenstein said.

SBDCs are funded in-part through a Cooperative Agreement with the U.S. Small Business Administration, the Montana Department of Commerce, and regional hosts in economic development and higher education. Miles Community College is Montana’s tenth SBDC to provide tools and guidance for small business success.

“We are excited about this opportunity to help serve this region of Montana,” Klippenstein said.

Montana’s SBDC and the college are currently seeking an SBDC Regional Director, an employee of the college under contract to meet SBDC’s mission and goals. To apply to the Miles City SBDC Regional Director position, visit <https://www.milesccl.edu/Employment/>.

About Montana Small Business Development Centers

The Montana SBDC Network, is a program nationally accredited through America's SBDC, began in 1989. Over the course of its 28-year history, the SBDC has assisted more than 29,000 Montana entrepreneurs and nearly 6,500 businesses. The SBDC Lead Center in Helena oversees administrative operations with satellite offices throughout the state. SBDC's certified Business Consultants provide one-to-one consulting to small businesses at no cost to clients. For more information, visit sbdc.mt.gov.

In 2016, the SBDC network helped launch 73 new businesses, counseled clients for 6,667 hours, and hosted 85 training seminars to reach 1,276 participants. The Montana SBDC also created or retained 616 jobs in Montana, and helped small business owners launch or grow their companies by working with clients to access more than $45 million in financing.

GALLERY 12 is a band of twelve artists who have renounced the idea that a gallery must have the traditional four walls. Instead, they display numerous venues with a wide variety of styles and mediums. Many of the members are award winning artists who have garnered national awards. Some are workshop instructors who share their knowledge with beginners to foster the important next generation of painters and sculptors. All are professional artists working in eastern Idaho.

Sponsor A Wreath Today

In 2017, the Miles City Jaycees became an approved fundraising group through the Wreaths Across America organization (WAA) which provides wreaths for veterans cemeteries across the nation every December.

The goal is to place a wreath (approximately 500 in total) at every grave site in the Eastern Montana Veterans Cemetery as part of the larger nationwide ceremony on December 16, 2017.

Wreaths are $15 each.

Make checks payable to "Wreaths Across America" and mail directly to:
Miles City Jaycees, PO Box 1354, Miles City, MT 59301.

Donate online at wreathsassamerica.org. Scroll down to "Donate to a Local Fundraising Group", search by Miles City Jaycees and click the button that says "Donate".

This will ensure that the funds will be used locally and for every two wreaths sponsored through the Miles City Jaycees, WAA will donate a third wreath.

Cutoff date is November 27, 2017

Use the WAA website, wreathsassamerica.org, to view fundraising progress and to register to volunteer with the wreath laying ceremony. Email questions to milescityjaycees@gmail.com.
